

Mary L. Howell

Mary L. Howell has over 30 years of experience in the water and wastewater industry. As Founder of Backflow Management Inc., a nationally-recognized training and consulting firm, Ms. Howell spends the majority of her time preparing and delivering trainings and presentations related to water and wastewater throughout the United States. Her passion is assisting Operators in understanding the importance and value of their role, and believes education and certification are the cornerstones of success.

Ms. Howell is a longstanding and active member of organizations such as the Associated Boards of Certification, Evergreen Rural Water of Washington, the American Water Works Association (both National and Pacific Northwest Section), and Oregon Association of Water Utilities.