

"Introduction to Pumps" Live Online Workshop

In this 3 hour live online "Introduction to Pumps" workshop we will discuss the different types and classifications of pumps, the advantages and disadvantages of each type, how they work (theory of operation) and the typical applications found in the water and wastewater fields.

This class forms the foundation for our "mechanical series of classes".